Access to Dr. Frazer’s Personal Website

Go to http://www.millersville.edu/~dfrazer

You will see something like this:

You can find a number of useful things, syllabi, solutions (if available), powerpoints, etc. here.

My website also points you to the Blackboard utility which is where I have organized my material in connection with the textbook. Click on your course here.

You will have to login. Your user name is usually your first initial middle initial and last name. For example John M. Doe, would be jmdoe Your password is usually your birth date.

Some people’s browsers don’t work well with my pull-down menus, so I have simplified some of the links here.

This document is available on-line here.

If I assign quizzes (or other on-line assignments) you will find them on the “Assignment” link on the BUAD 361 site under quizzes-Fall 2005.
